Hello Parents,

Hopefully you have been enjoying our unseasonably warm weather and the beautiful fall colors. Here's the latest from the 3rd-5th grade classroom.

Website: A reminder that you can view class updates, photos, videos, and more on our classroom website: stpaullux.wikispaces.com. The 3rd-4th grade newscasts from last week are up. The students are also working on a "Voki" project in computer class. This involved making an "avatar" of themselves and telling us a little bit about themselves. These are also making their way on the website as students complete them.

Book Orders: Book orders are due tomorrow, Friday, October 14th. You can send orders back in the students' daily folders, or you can also easily order online at scholastic.com/bookclubs by using our class code: HZQWM.

3rd-4th Science: Since completing our natural resource newscasts, we have moved on to talking about garbage, compost, and trash. We have created a small "landfill" in our classroom, and will be unburying it next week to check the status of our buried trash. We also completed an experiment this week on the problem with oil spills, as we tried to separate oil and sand and discovered how difficult it can be.

Word Day: Thank you all for returning your child's word choices for our upcoming "Word Day." I am eager to see the students' word attire in less than two weeks! Let me know if you have any preparation questions.

Religion: The 3rd-5th graders did a wonderful job this weekend as they helped lead chapel! The students presented a skit based on the Parable of the Lost Sheep. We have also enjoyed acting out many of our Bible stories in our classroom this year. We definitely have a group of actors on our hands!

Have a wonderful weekend!

In Christ,
Miss Bernau
